Ascon

ASCON Oil is an independent marketer of petroleum products in Nigeria. The Company began life as a marketer of Petrol and Diesel and has since expanded to include LPFO. The Company is also moving aggressively into the production and marketing of lubricants, recently completing a lubricant plant along the Lagos-Ibadan expressway with a blending capacity of 30,000 liters. In the medium term, and subject to prevailing market conditions, the company intends to move into the midstream sector through the establishment of full scale refinery operations.

Heritage

Incorporated in 1984 ASCON commenced business as an independent marketer of petroleum products in February 1985. Since then the company has developed a nationwide presence, with operations in each of the six geopolitical zones of Nigeria.
